Housing Management

Housing management refers to the tasks that any landlord must do from time to time as long as s/he/it has tenants or licensees occupying his/her/its property. Housing management includes:

- Signing up new tenants
- Organising repairs and maintenance
- Collecting rent and chasing arrears

In the context of supported accommodation, housing management is distinguished from care, support or supervision. But sometimes supported accommodation requires additional or intensive management to such an extent that it overlaps with support.
